Financing through Public Private Partnership – Opportunities and challenges

Financing the investments for environment is more and more difficult, innovative and collaborative solutions are necessary. Public Private Partnership (PPP) represents an efficient mechanism so that public and private sectors can collaborate to develop environment infrastructure, especially in waste management area.

This seminar aims to give the answers to essentials questions:

Can be Public Private Partnership the optimal solution for public services development?

What are the steps to implement such a partnership?

Practical example and case studies will help us to explore available financing ways and impact on long term of such partnerships.
